Bettencourt-Reed.

On returning from the theater last evening, the APPEAL force were agreeably surprised to find an installment of cake and wine, which after devouring, they discovered to be the result of the union in marriage of Edward Bettencourt and Hannah Reed, both of this city, at the residence of the bride's brother, by Rev. Walsh.

The entire staff drank to the future prosperity of the lucky couple.

Richard Smith is now running the saloon formerly managed by Lager Beer Joe, at Empire, and proposes to run a quiet, orderly resort, with the assistance of good liquors and cigars.

Mrs R M Clarke has appointed Mrs M A Murphy, Mrs G W Cagwin and Miss Ollie Bray to solicit samples of work for the women's exhibit in the Nevada exhibit at the Midwinter Fair.

The San Francisco papers say M. D. Foley of Reno has been appointed State Agent of the Southern Pacific Company in Nevada. All persons having grievances against the railroad will now have to make complaint to Mr. Foley.

The Chronicle jumps all over the statistics in the Enterprise which went to show that about 600 men are at work in the Comstock mines. As the Chronicle gets most of its mining news from the S. F. Post and Report, it may not be in a position to know the facts.

A funny thing happened at the play last night. Budd Bliss gave Usher Frank Helm a bunch of flowers which he desired him to hand to George Oliver. Helm handed it to Frank Oliver, and he in turn, passed it to Miss Davis, the Cricketer; so as a matter of fact, it landed where it really belonged after all, though Budd intended to have a lot of fun at the expense of George.

One of the daintiest of the New Year calendars is that issued by the proprietors of Hood's Sarsaparilla. It will fully satisfy every expectation as to beauty and utility. "Sweet Sixteen" is the head of a beautiful girl, the lovely picture being lithographed in many delicate colors. The pad harmonizes with the exquisite array of color above, while the dates are easily read. Hood's Calendar may be obtained of your druggist or by sending 6 cents in stamps for one or 10 cents for two, to C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

The Examiner made a mistake in stating that the Nevada building and exhibit is an auxiliary to the '49 Mining Camp. There is no connection whatever between the two. The Nevada building and exhibit are under the management of James A. Yerington, who was appointed by the State Board of Agriculture, General Manager for the State of Nevada. The '49 Mining Camp is a private affair conducted by a company for the money there is in it. The Nevada exhibit is to advertise the resources of the State by showing its products.—Journal.

A New Carson Diversion.

The Carson people just now are wrestling with a bean guessing problem. The beans are put in a bottle and the lucky one guessing nearest the right number contained therein is rewarded with the beans. The winner must then cook them in the presence of the others for one hour after which the losing guesser must suffer the penalty of eating the concoction. The list of ingredients allowed to be put in is limited to pepper, salt, sugar, glue, mustard, washing soda, yeast powder and gum arabic. Up to now there have been no fatalities attend the game, but it is not improbable that there will be some interesting developments shortly. The most serious case is that of a young man who had the misfortune to get a bean glued to his esophagus, with a liberal quantity of pepper under it. He has been drinking warm water ever since, and bets are even about the State Capital as to whether the glue will dissolve before the bean sprouts, or vice versa.—Journal.

A STATE RAILROAD.

A Carson Man Discourses on a Great Proposition.

Carson, Jan. 3, 1894.

ED. APPEAL:—If the people of this State will wake up and investigate the proposition that I now propose, and carry it out, we will have the best State in the Union. My proposition is for the State of Nevada to build a railroad from Carson, or some other central point in Nevada, to the Sacramento River, and to absolutely own and control the road for the benefit of the people. For instance, start at Carson, run up through Carson Valley, Fredricksburg, Diamond Valley, Alpine, around Lake Tahoe on the South, through Lake Valley and then over the hill to Strawberry, down the American river to Placerville, and from there to the Sacramento river, which will put this State in direct communication with the ocean and make this State a competitive point, the same as New York, San Francisco, New Orleans or Boston, and we could make our own rates and get goods in here as cheap as they can in San Francisco.

In running this road through the country I have just mentioned, there are thousands of acres of land, both farming and timber, with plenty of natural reservoirs for the storage of water for irrigation and manufacturing purposes, and all of this land would be covered with thousands of homes of industrious families, with new farms, new mines, stone and slate quarries, and manufactories of different kinds.

There would be no end to business for the road. Now in order to make this a success, the road must be run for expenses and interest on the bonds only, for 25 or 50 years. The freight and fare charges must be regulated in accordance with those expenses.

In order for the State to do this we will first form a new political party, throw all old party issues aside and go in with this one issue alone. The platform must be most binding; the penalty for violating the platform must be death. When putting a candidate on the ticket for the Legislature or any other office, first state to him the proposition clearly and make him thoroughly acquainted with the platform, and then ask him if he can go to the Legislature on a platform that has a death penalty.

These strict measures would have to be used, for just as soon as it was known what we proposed to do, the sack would be sent to head it off, and the penalty to our platform is all that we would have to head off the sack. Next in order after getting our representatives, would be to get the necessary legislation constitutional, and otherwise, and bond the State for three million dollars, at 3 per cent per annum, bonds redeemable in 50 years.

Make the Governor, State Controller, State Treasurer, Surveyor General, and Attorney General a Board of Directors; the Governor to be the General Superintendent, and he could appoint his assistant superintendent, the committee to see that the representatives stand firm for this proposition must be a secret committee appointed by the Central Committee of this party, and with the penalty properly executed there will be no danger of any member falling.

When this road is complete it will not be necessary to charge more than $5 for a round trip from here to San Francisco and not more than 1/2 of a cent a pound for freight, local rates, and not more than $10 a car for car loads. The bonds will be paid by the generation to come, the rising generation, and the falling generation only pays the interest on the bonds, and by the time the bonds become payable the State will have become so prosperous that the increase in taxes will pay it and the people will never feel it. The man that owns one dollar's worth of property today will when the road is complete be worth $5, it will be as cheap to live in Nevada as in San Francisco. A man living in this state raising produce would be virtually as near to the San Francisco market as a man in Napa.

With the fare at $5 for the round trip from California, Lake Tahoe shores would be alive with hundreds of fine hotels and summer resorts of all kinds. Of course there will be a great many details to this proposition that I will not mention just now.

If we want to hurry matters we could call a special election to vote on the constitutional amendments necessary to legalize the project.

I wrote this in view of getting discussion on this subject as it is one that I have given considerable thought, I would like to hear from others regarding the matter.

Yours truly,
W. H. CHEDIC.

Fanchon the Cricketer.

The Opera House was packed last night to witness this sparkling little French comedy. While everybody understands that the cast was made up entirely of amateurs, there was a very near approach to the professional in several instances, notably Miss Grace Davis as Fanchon, J. D. Torreyson as the rich farmer, John Meder and Peter Doyle as the twin brothers, Miss Jennie Torreyson as Fadet, Mrs. George Cagwin as Mother Barbeau and Mrs P. Doyle as Madelon.

Miss Davis and Miss Torreyson deserve especial mention for the artistic manner in which they handled their respective parts.

It is always a delicate matter for a reporter to write up an amateur entertainment, but when he is so carried away by the performance as to forget that the players are beginners, as was the case with the writer, and then sits down to his desk to say things about them that can't be taken back, and realizes that he is dealing with amateurs, he finds it difficult indeed, to "hit it just right."

However we do not think we have flattered anyone in the above, and as to the rest of the cast, while they had little or nothing to do, each did his or her best.

Frank Oliver in the dual roll of Colin and Martineau, showed improvement. Geo. Oliver, Chas. Calvin Fred Cushing and Jim Benton had little to do, but did that well.

The young ladies, Neva Wilson, Georgie French, Hallie Bigelow, Susie Dorsey and Jessie Fryer, were all their small parts called for; in fact they did a little better than the young gentlemen, which, of course, was expected.

The music by the Day orchestra was quite a treat and loudly applauded.

The new scenery added a touch of realism to the play.

Great Milking.

The thoroughbred Holstein cow Nevada Queen, which is being milked for a record at the Holstein ranch, Wednesday gave 34 quarts, and 19 quarts yesterday morning. If anyone doubts these performances, and would like to risk some money on it, he can be accommodated at this office. We don't believe there is another cow of any breed in this State which can equal this.

Suicided.

Dr. Herdan, who formerly practiced medicine here and became quite a character about the various faro tables in Reno, is reported to have committed suicide at the Palmer House in Chicago last Friday.—Gazette.
